Hongkong, Wednesday, February 1, 1882.

Wa contended, in a leading article some months, back, that, while the attention of the world was diverted elsewhere, France was working steadily - slowly and surely -towards the extension of her power in the East, making Cochin-China the basis | or nucleus of her operations. We have already commented on her progress towards the frontier of the Chinese province of Yunnan, and now purpose to briefly notice her advances--territorial or otherwise -- in other, different directions-west and north. In the first place, we find that the action of the British Government in establishing telegraphic communication between Burma and Siam-that is the line from Tayoy to Bangkok-is to be closely followed by a line from Saigon to the Siamese capital. Those acquainted with makes out of coining sea at Osaka, which the restrictive policy which governs the trade of this Eastern dependency of France. will not be long in arriving at the political significance of the proposed wire connection, and the cause which led to its initiation so soon as the possibility of the other scheme becoming im fait accomple was realized. We do not, of course, ignore the fact that satisfactory explanations are at hand -always ready to meet every probable contingency of surmise in reference to this action, and, anent which, under other circumstances, there would no alternative but acceptation. This scepticism on our part is explained by the following extract from the Mandalay news letter of the Rangoon Gazette, dated the 24th December last :from Cochin China. One of the Ministers, some time ago, wrote to a friend of his in France asking him to sound the French them of eight districts of a Shan State lying on the east side of the Meikong, in the direction of Tonkin, provided the French Government would secure an outlet to the sea for the Burmese government through | the Sankoi River. Nobody in the secret here believed, at the time, the French! Government would accept the offer. 'Can it be that the talked-of expedition from Saigon came to survey the proffered districts?" Those who may have devoted any attention to the present position of affairs in Upper Burma would consider such speculations portentions - under existing treaty relations and accused of aiding and abetting rebellion and inviting agression, by the prohibition of the importation of powerless to suppress the one or to oppose the other effectually, his Kingdom having at present no sea-outlet except through British territory. Western science and King, and a score or more of foreigners engaged to tide over this and other difficulties, with no other result but the sacrifice of lakhs of rupees. We are not, therefore, surprised at finding the present potentate, whose enmity to the British Government is not hid-which at one period, 1879, nearly lost him his throne, and might have led to "annexation"-looking elsewhere for an alliance that would serve his ends. Overtures there."

were made to Italy, but they meant nothing further than an exchange of kind wishes, During the Afghan imbroglio, friendly communications were opened with Russia; but what they resulted in none can tell. We now find France likely to assume a position in reference to independent Burma that must affect British interests not only in that country, but all around it. Although the advent of French influence into a neighbouring hostile country, may be surrounded with difficulties which give us assurance from immediate concern, still it is an occurrence that may likely arise in the future, and speculations on this head " Monco et Munio." These are not idle serve the purpose indicated in the motto' croakings. Foreign influence has always been well represented at Mandalay at which Court we have no British Resident or Political Agent of any sort. Things there have been drifting from bad to worse; and the policy of our own Government as regards South Africa and Afghanistan has been simply a premium offered to the Burman despot for insult and defiance, which he is fully aware may be indulged in with impunity.

It has always been a puzzle to us to imagine what becomes of the copper coins struck at the Osaka mint. From 1872 to 1880 the total number struck was more than five hundred and twenty millions, the gross value being about six million dollars. Thus, had there been no loss or exportation, every man woman and child in Japan might now be in possession of fifteen copper coins apiece, varying in value from one rin to two sen. That ought to be a very tolerable supply, one would fancy, and yet we hear, that complaints of scarcity are perpetually coming fromdistant provinces. One cannot suppose that many people are given to hoarding coppers, and yet where do these coins go? Probably China could account for a good many of them. Exoperation, and is still carried on largely by pigtailed speculators at the southern ports. Unförfunate Japan, bleeding at every pore! What wonder that signs of inanition are beginning to writer of the above paragraph is not the only one, by many, who has "been puzzled to imagine" what becomes of the copper coinage minted at Osakai-the officials themselves have not the remotest idea what becomes of the tons of senturned out from the Imperial Japanese Mint. "Probably," says the Mail, "China could account for a good many of them." That is not our experience; at least so far as Shanghai, concerned; and that is, we presume, what is meant. But what we take exception to, is the expression "Unfortunate Japan, bleeding at every pore!" As a matter of fact, it would be a great blessing for "Unfortunate Japan," if she could have the minting of all the half-pence in use in the various nothing short of enormous.

REFERRING to the Osaka Mint, the Japan Mail revives the ramour of the probable dismissal of the foreigners engaged there. This story, has been floating for a long time, but considering that only two foreigners are left in the establishment-one the scientific director, and the other in charge of the machinery—(which is of the most delicate and complicated nature)-we think hardly likely that, for some time, at least, the Japanese Government will dispense with the se vices of the two gentlemen referred to. Those who are interested in, or know anything of, the subject, will readily concur in the Mail's remarks which follow :- "Rumour says that the authorities are beginning to display symptoms of a desire to dispense with the services of the few foreigners employed at the Mint as soon as the period of their present engagement shall have "A fresh expedition is expected our way terminated. Fortunately that time is still tolerably remote, and rumour may perhaps be mistaken, but none the less the contingency does not bear to be calmly contemplated. We are Government and propose the cession to not of the number of those who fancy that foreign assistance must be a permanent factor in Japanese undertakings, and we can heartily sympathize with the spirit of independence that longs to dispense altogether with tutelage and leading strings. But, for the time being, the line must be drawn somewhere, and it should, certainly, be traced at this side of the Mint. If Japan's silver and gold coins were intended to circulate within the limits of the Islands of Nippon only, she might perhaps" dispense with all foreign aid at the Mint, but so long as those coins are destined also for the markets of China and the Straits Colonies, there are powerful arguments against removing anything which may serve to sustain public confidence. The work of an assayer is a very delicate relations with the Court of Mandalay. We operation, demanding, for its perfect accomplishare taxed with the non-observance of ment under the constantly varying conditions it has to encounter, a wealth of skill and resource which cannot possibly be in the possession of any Japanese as yet. so at least we are constrained to think, with every disposition to believe the arms which renders King THEEBAUD contrary, and so the general public, without any such disposition, will inevitably think. Money is the last thing people care to take on trust. A very little suspicion of incompetent assay, an error in the hundredth place of decimals in the column of weights, will be sufficient to set men asking questions, and then we shall have the old skill were invited to Mandalay by the late story rehearsed—silver yen at one or two per cent. discount and innumerable melting pots helping their owners to bleed Japan. Up to the present, the Mint has been eminently successful? So successful that like many another example of skill which seems all the simpler for its perfect exercise, the Japanese have perhaps been persuaded to overlook the difficulties of conducting it efficiently. Let us hope, however, that they may alvoid the fatal error of removing it prematurely they desire to assure themselves of their own competency or otherwise to undertake the work,

they need no more trustworthy or efficient opinion

than that of the foreign experts now employed

WE hear that a meeting of the Legislative Council is called for Friday next,

THE Russian steamer Catharine II. has gone round to Aberdeen Dock.

WE have seen it before stated that Mr. John Russell Young, who will be remembered in this Colony as one of General Grant's party, when the ex-president visited Hongkong, was probably to be appointed to a post in the Far East. On this subject the Japan Mail says :- "Private advices received by last mail from New York state distinctly that Mr. John Russell Young comes to Japan as United States Representative The question of Consular changes, if any are to occur, does not seem to be settled."

WE have received from Messrs. Noronha & sons a copy of their race-book, containing entries for the forthcoming Hongkong Race Meeting. I is a well got-up little book, bound in a very tasteful and substantial manner, and answers in every way the purposes intended. In an appendix will be found a list of winners and placed ponies at Hongkong, shanghai, and Foochow during 1881. also at Amoy last month, with names of riders times, and other useful information. This sportsman's vade meeum is a credit to the compilers, and it should receive a ready sale.

HONGKONG is not the only place afflicted with juries, with-to put it mildly-" peculiarities," as the following paragraph will show:-Considerable astonishment has been produced in the capital of Lombardy by a verdict recently pronounced by a Milanese jury in the following curious case. It appears that, one evening last June, Teresina la Fiorai, a flower girl of extraordinary beauty, was returning to her lodgings from a performance at the Renz Circus, when, as she stepped out of a cab at her door a cloaked figure sprang upon her from the portieo with a menacing gesture and then vanished in the darkness, having, however, contrived to inflict a severe wound on her right cheek with one dexterous cut of a razor as he brushed past her. Uttering a piercing scream, she fell, bleeding profusely, to the ground, whence she was presently picked up and conveyed to porting them thither used to be a very profitable | the hospital, disfigured for life. The police succeeded in discovering the author of this barbarous outrage, a Neapolitan by birth who, strange to say, had no personal grudge against his victim, but had undertaken to mutilate her on behalf make themselves apparent!-Japan Maike-The of a friend whom she had grievously offended. For some months previous to the catastrophe in question Teresina had carried on a liaison with a handsome young volunteer in the Novara regithent of Lancers, as jealous as he was loving. Wearied, at last of his jealousy, she threw him over, and openly transferred her affections to another of her many admirers. Driven to despair by her fickleness, the youthful Lancer confided his sorrows to a comrade, the Neapolitan above Hongkong, and the intervening Coast Ports, are alluded to, who, observing that "in Naples it was the custom for jilted lovers to set their mark on the faithless destroyers of their peace," offered to act as his friend's avenger, and did so with the result already stated. Incredible as it may appear, the jury before which he and his comrade were tried acquitted both culprits, on the amazing countries of the world at the same profit that she ground that "the impulses of jealousy being irresistible, as all men knew, the accused could not be held responsible for actions committed under the influence of that overwhelming passion." A stranger excuse for a homicidal assault has probably never figured among "ex-

LAW which is openly defied is worse than no law at all; now we would ask if the Act to " Prevent the carrying of deadly weapons? is not daily defied? If upon the other islands, and even in Honolulu, there, are not a number of people who carry deadly weapons? Why is not the law put in force against such offenders ? It is to be supposed because it has very seldom been put in force and that it is difficult once having got into a rut to get out of it. The defiance of this law some years ago may have been confined to a few isolated persons, and as those made no ill use of their weapons, no one thought it worth his while, or necessary, to see that it was strictly enforced. This is that easy slipshod manner of doing things which is thoroughly characteristic of the tropics; but which so often puts its followers into a quicksand. A firm in this town took the law somewhat into their own hands the other day, upon the matter of weapons; we think their action thoroughly justifiable, only what they did priyately should be done systematically. A gang of Chinese arrived from the coast by one of the sailing packets, we think the Discovery. Agents here, whose clients wanted laborers, engaged them. 'Upon discussion with the shipping master, he stated that he was alraid, and could do nothing with them, because all the new comers were armed. "Ah," said the agents, "tell them all to come here with their baggage, the plantation they are going to is a fine one, and the managers are particular; we wish to see whether their clothes 'are 'clean." Accordingly the Chinamen duly arrived with their kits, turned them out and had them examined. During the course of the examination of the first kit a re volver appeared. "What's that? What do you want that for ?" "Oh, mc California Chinaman, me alle same Melican man, that my leevolver." The "leevolver" was duly examined and admired, and the other celestials were drawn to show theirs, when the whole ten were raised, the agents confiscated them for the time, telling the men that such weapons could not be allowed to be carried round. The pistols were, however, sent up to the manager, and it was left to his discretion either to return them at once to the men, or when their conttacts are out. A strict supervision should be kept up and no unauthorized person should be allowed to go habitually armed. These laws about carrying weapons are as old as the hills almost : and again as a people have become highly civilized they have invariably seen the necessity of removing the temptation which from the hands that have made it what it is. If | the carrying of arms inevitably gives. Not only member which—you will require always to have three or more directors. We have had four beshould there be a supervision of those who carry cause in case of having three and one of being arms, but there should be restrictions upon those who sell arms. Here is something for our new legislature to attend to.-Hawallan Gazette.

WE would direct attention to the performance which will be given in the Theatre Royal, City Hall, this evening by the members of the talented Paris Opera Bouffe Company. The piece selected for representation, Lecocq's celebrated comic opera "Le Petit Duc" is a most attractive and amusing one, and as the artistes have the reputation of being the best French troupe ever sent to the Far East, we trust that a crowded house will reward their efforts to amuse us.

THE correspondent of The Times telegraphs that reports are current in st. Petersburg that the relations between Russia and China have again become somewhat strained, The Official Messenger, however, announces that the inhabitants of Kuldja have now begun to migrate to the semiretschenk territory. The population had become free of their apprehensions, and there was hope of the undisturbed transference of the Ili valley, especially as General Friede has been commissioned to faciliatate matters. The Novice Vremya announces that, in consequence of the create a new Governor-Generalship out of part of Western siberia, the province of semiretschenk, and the portion of the Kuldja territory remaining in Russian possession. It is stated that General Tcherniajeff will be appointed to the new Governor-Generalship.—L. and C. Express.

reign Affairs., M. LEON SAY-Minister of Finance.

M. JULES FERRY-Minister of Education. M. TIRARD-Minister of Commerce and Agri-

M. Billor-Minister of War. The others are comparatively obscure.

THE HONGKONG HOTEL COM-I. PANY, LIMITED,

The adjourned meeting of shareholders of the above Company was held at the hotel yesterday afternoon. There were present Hon, E. R. Belilios (Chairman), Hon. P. Ryrie, Messrs. H Hoppius, W. Reiners (directors), Polishwalla, Morris, Vaucher, Hughes, Taylor, M. Murray, G. Raynal, D. McCulloch, R. Innes, E. George, H. G. James; Dr. Gomes, W. M. Morgan, McIver, Fuckeera, sung Chin Chune, and L. Hauschild (Secretary),

The CHAIRMAN said-Gentlemen, this is our adjourned half-yearly meeting. The business now on the table is the same as that you had before you when we last assembled here. Considering that all our shares were not represented at the last meeting, and bearing in mind that a fiasco was imminent, it was deemed advisable to postpone the discussion of our programme until to-day. You will remember that the resolution for the adoption of the report was passed, and we were on the twint of passing our second proposition, when the propriety of my using nay casting vote was questioned. I had a duty to perform. In the absence of the majority of the shareholders, the directors as trustees had no option but to complete the business for which we had then met. - We had our Deed of Association before us, which was the law for our guidance. Nor could we put off the meeting because a poll was demanded, for your requisition for a poll was informal and irregular. Article 67 reads:-

A declaration by the Chairman of any meeting that resolution has been carried thereat, upon a show of hands, shall be conclusive, and an entry to that effect, in the Blook of Proceedings of the Company, shall be sufficient evidence of that fact, without proof of the number, or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution, unless immediately on such declaration a real shall be demand in writing by at least ten shareholders pre-sent, and entitled to vote at such meeting. This will:convince you that your motion could not have brought about a postponement because, first, your demand for a poll came too late; second, it was not in writing; and third, there were only seven shareholders that asked for a

that we did defer deciding the questions that were then before us, because all our shareholders, including the attorneys of those who are absent from the Colony, have had ample notice of what is pending; we are congregated here in great force; every one will have an opportunity of making his voice heard; and there will be fair play for all concerned. It seems to me that the gentlemen of the opposition were in somewhat of a bungle throughout their proceedings at the last meeting. They came here to demur to the increased fees that were drawn by the directors; in fact, they came prepared to undo that which was already done. Deed of Association empowered the Board take a certain amount for their remuneration. At the general meeting in July last they announced that they had taken one thousand dollars, and not a word was said against it. Mr. Taylor was not a shareholder then; however, he has since bought shares with his eyes open. knowing full well what his dividend was to be under the circumstances. The directors have earned and taken a similar sum for the half-year just concluded. Although this appears in the account, it has as little to do with the balance sheet as our payment of accrued interest on your loan has to do with it. If you can by any possibility undo the latter you can also undo the former. The adoption of the report and the question of the directors' fees are two entirely different matters. They are as distinct from one another as the sun is distinct from the moon, cannot vote both at one and the same time. you decline to adopt our report at this meeting, I must warn you the effect will be to plunge your affairs into chaos. I do not know what the odly is-crimes of violence are very rapidly next process would be. In all probability you would have to seek the aid of our friends of the long robe to extricate you from the mire have almost disappeared, and nearly all the into which you appear to be drifting. come here to-day as unprepared as at the last | Chinese immigrants, and is less than in any meeting, when we were so unjustifiably attacked. We have not canvassed for votes. The only things we have prepared are a corrected list of Malay population, which in all numbers about shareholders and a list showing the number of votes each shareholder has at his command. To simplify matters, I think it will be prudent to ment in them is visible, and by bringing to bear permit the business for which this meeting is convened to be carried through. When this task shall have been accomplished the directors will place their resignation in your hands. Adverting to our number, and to our present remuneration, I have a few words to say, If this institution is similar to the Javanese." to cominue to be a company under the statute | The policy thus indicated by Resident Low; of or under the Deed of Association-I do not re-shareholders to elect another director. To provide for contingencies of this kind we agreed on having four members on the Board. Our fees were raised because we found men of means did not care to remain on the Board as Directors. ____ne of our former colleagues, who is at this nie nent in the Colony—and the most indefatigable men r of the Board he was in hard times—a few years back voluntarily resigned without giving us any reason as to why he did so. It is evident he found that the time he devoted to the Company could be employed more profitably in his own business. This instance will prove to you that responsible men will not serve for small remuneration. With these remarks, I beg to propose that the report and accounts be adopted.

Mr. TAYLOR-Mr.Chairman, I think we are all willing to be guided by you, and we are much obliged to you for your advice, but I would say that the feeling of opposition to the remuneration taken by the directors arose from the belief that the business for which that remuneration was intended was not being done by the directors. The nature of that business is detailed in article 5, where it says—" The business shall-be carried on by or under the management of the directors," and we felt that as that was not being done the directors ought not to draw the remuneration provided for a Article 88. We are quite prepared great distance of Tashkend from the Chinese to pass the accounts on the assurance of your frontier, the Imperial Government has decided to resignation, and when you say you think eligible and responsible men cannot be met with on small remuneration, I hope to show they can, as far as responsibility is concerned, and more eligible than the present directors in respect of the large number of shares they hold. I shall be very happy to second that resolution if you like, that he accounts be passed.

The motion was then put and carried nem con. On the motion of Mr. INNES, seconded by Mr. Hoppius, the auditors, Messrs. A. E. Vaucher and E. Cope, were re-elected. The CHAIRMAN-That is all the business gentlemen, and the remaining directors are very, happy to place their resignation before you. Of course, to conduct your affairs, you must elect a board of directors at once, because if you have no directors your Deed of Association becomes

Mr. INNES-I think it would be better to debate a little. We are taken by surprise.

The CHAIRMAN-Your first business would be to elect a chairman.

Mr. INNES-We will find men to take the responsibility off your hands almost immediately, but still it requires a little consideration.

Hon. P. RYRIE-I think it would be better for the directors to remain in office and let the shareholders consider and appoint another day for a meeting, unless you have gentlemen ready on the spot. I think it would be better to let the two directors who are in office remain for the sake of the company.

Mr. TAYLOR-But there is no more business f we appoint directors the business is over. The CHAIRMAN-That is so.

Mr. Taylor-I'propose Mr. James, Mr. Foss, Mr. Hughes, and Mr. Antonio dos Remedios. Mr. Morris suggested that the election should be by ballot.

The CHAIRMAN-You can arrange that as you like. We will be neutral at this meeting. Mr. HOPPIUS-No; I don't see why we should. Allow me to call your attention to the fact that you have no Chairman, and you must elect a Chairman before you can proceed. Mr. TAYLOR-As Mr. Belilios has been good enough to give us his advice so far, perhaps he will continue to act as Chairman for this meeting for five minutes more.

Mr. Bellillos-I will do so with pleasure. Mr. Morgan seconded Mr. Taylor's proposition that Messrs. James, Foss, Hughes, a A. dos Remedios form the board of directors

Mr. Morris-Mr. Chairman, before this proposition is put to the meeting I should like to know what the new board intend to ask for their services, because as it is now we are simply going from the frying pan into the fire. We are going on what? On a new board without promises of anything. Would you ask Mr. Taylor to be good enough to explain what the new board intend doing?

The CHAIRMAN (to Mr. Taylor)-Could you easily consult with these gentlemen as to what their remuneration should be?

Mr. TAYLOR-I suppose it would be what I mentioned last time, $50 each in each half-year's

The CHAIRMAN-That is $200 between the

Mr. TAYLOR-Yes. Hon. P. RYRIE-Are they willing?

Mr. TAYLOR-I can answer for some, not all. The CHAIRMAN-Then it would be well to put to the meeting on that understanding. Mr. McCulloch-Before you could do that, you would have to alter the Articles of Association. Hon. P. RYRIE-Not at all, because the article says they may take "a sum not exceeding

Mr. McCullocH-In the meantime they are atisfied with $200. Mr. TAYLOR-Until they put article 5 into

Hon. P. RYRIE-If they are elected on that inderstanding, as men of honoar they must idhere to it.

Mr. TAYLOR—Until article 5 is put in practice. They may charge what they like then, if they do the work for which the remuneration in article 88 was intended. Mr. Morris-What is the motion?

The CHAIRMAN-That these gentlemen be elected on the understanding that their remuneration be $50 each half-year. Mr. Hoppius-You can always vote them an ncrease of pay,

The motion was then put and carried nems. con: On the motion of Mr. HUGHES, seconded by fr. TAYLOR, a vote of thanks to the Chairman was passed, and the meeting terminated .- Press.

CHARACTER OF THE MALAYS.

Hugh Low Esq., Resident of the protected Malay state of Perak, in a letter to the British Colonial Secretary, received by last mail, says ;--

"It is difficult for any one except on actual inspection and enquiry to believe that in four years Perak has become so settled as it now undoubtdiminishing—thefts among the Malay population crime committed in the state is now traceable to country with a similar population. * . * . * . & MACAO EDUCATION. "To the Entrok of the "Hongkong Telegraph" ER,-As one of those who, according to "A. B. C.'s " statement, "displayed the singular ability of delivering a philosophical dissertation in the form of a speech on the subject of the distribution of prizes," I have to return him the compliment in the shape of the following remarks :---

The gist of his strictures on the professors of the Commercial-school seems to be that they really are interested in keeping the institution within its commercial bounds, for the simple 'reason that they are not up to the branches of superior instruction which it is the ambition of the Lyceum supporters to introduce.

I will remind "A. B. C." that the teachers of the Commercial-school have, every, one of them, gone through a complete course of superior studies, ancient litterature, natural and philosophical sciences, long before they undertook the task of training youths to commerce. They did not owe their education to Lyceum sources, but to the tuition of the Jesuit priests at st. Joseph's, sixteens year ago, and to other masters abroad. One of them took his degree of philosophy in Belgium and published at Lisbon a treatise entitled "Outlines of Analytical Philosophy," besides several scientifical contributions to the Portuguese newspapers. Another taught philosophy at st. Joseph's in Macao; another, was a professor of physics and chemistry. Had the proprietors of the Commercial-school wished to transform their institution into an establishment of purely superior instruction, they could The SCURRY STAKES, a sweepstakes of $5 each, carry out their programme to perfection, without requiring the slightest help from any Lyceum.

Laus in ore proprio vilescit; but I cannot stand the ridiculous and base assertion that the importance of commercial studies is advocated solely for the benefit of the teachers. It was for the benefit of the rising generation of Macao that the Commercial-school was founded. The founders, the teachers, the pupils, their parents and the public at large, are under the strong conviction that superior studies, as such, are an ornamental superfluity, considering the present state of degradation into which this town has sunk. There are already a few branches of superior studies gone through at our schools. To go beyond them into the region of high Greek and transcendantal metaphysics, when the fetters of poverty are closing upon this place, once so prosperous by commerce, would be sheer insanity. When the Jesuits taught sciences here, Macac was in a far better condition than it is now, There was still ample opportunities for doctors, lawyers, and scientists to carn a decent livelihood by their professions. Presently the chances, are As trade pays best, and there is no trade in Macao, nor there is any future prospect, it is only natural; nay, it is a necessity, that the youth of Macao should look northwards and southwards for Commercial employments. It is my sincere wish that they may sooner or later settle down in business, here, or abroad, and thus retard the progress of decadence and poverty which their country is subjected to. The Lyceum schemers may go on dreaming of superior instruction and high sciences; the public will never countenance their views, much less when they are couched in such acrimonious and insulting . expressions as it has pleased "A. B. C." to indulge in. Thanking you for insertion of these lines .-Premain, yours, &c., . e Macao, January 30th, 1882.

CRICKET.

CRICKLY CRUIC'S, ROSAL NAVY. This interesting confest, as juentioned in our last issue, was commenced yesterday foremon. The Navy won the toss, and decided to take, the first innings, sending in Winsloe and McMunn to face the bowling of Hynes and Tomes. A bad start was made, the Doctor falling a victim to Hynes after scoring three, and stebbing was immediately afterwards caught by one of the ground coolies fielding substitute at cover-point for a cipher. Bishop had hardly got set before the undergrounder rattled down his wicket, and Carpenter succumbed to a full pitch from the same bowler, having just failed to reach double ! figures. Winsloe had in the meanwhile been scoring rapidly, and had amassed, 23 runs by clean hard hitting when Hynes managed to get one past his bat. Dormer, as in the match on the previous day, played excellent cricket, and with Wilson, after Tomes had sent both Ethelston and Royds back-to the pavilion for "ducks," made a good stand. After quickly running up' 18, the Victor Emanuel representative managed to stop the passage of one of Hynes deliveries with his leg. and had to retire. Robertson was the last man, and had only scored a couple, when Reynell was put on to bowl, the change immediately having the desired effect, the shanghai player's first ball proving fatal to the last comer, leaving Dormer to carry out his bat for an exceedingly well played 24. The total score amounted for runs, which appeared to give the Navy an exceedingly poor show against a fairly powerful bat ting team. However, the uncertainty of the noble game was again strikingly exemplified, as, with the exception of Bell "Irving, the whole of the cracks failed to come off, an exceedingly feeble exhibition of batting resulting in a grand total of 79 runs, leaving the sailors victors by 22

. Hynes and Bell Irving were the first batsmen for the home team, Wilson and Stebbing leading ! off the attack. The secretary managed to break his "duck" before being smartly taken in the slips by Wilson off stebbing, and Hedley had only totalled half a dozen when the Victor: Emanuel youngster clean bowled him. Bell Irving and stainforth gave some slight amount of trouble before being got rid of, the first named compiling a hard hit 19, when Robertson had him, "c and b," whilst the Fusilier was unlucky to get run out after scoring 13, and getting well set. With the exception of Reynell, who played in good form for 18 before running himself out; the rest of the team could make no headway against the bowling, although Forbes infused some life into the game by a couple of hard cracks for three each before failing to stop a straight one from stebbing, and when the telegraph board registered 79 the match was lost and

The Navy commenced a second innings, and made a much better show than in their first should think that a larger field would assemble essay, rapidly running up 164 for the loss of six at the post on the 24th inst. than was the case wickets, when the stumps were drawn. Of this when Lord of the Isles cantered home on three total stebbing scored 64 not out, Dormer 34, Winsloe 18, and Bishop 16. Full scores ap- Race. The Exchange Plate, the crack "Cup pended :--

THE ENTRIES. The entries for the second day's races can be favorably compared with those of last year, although in one or two events, especially in the Professional Cup, a decided falling off is noticetable. The scurry stakes shows an Entry of 16 as compared with 21 twelve months ago; but we legs in front of snowstorm, Detonator, and Wild race" of the meeting, substituted for the old German Cup, has retained its popularity, showing a substantial entry of 20 ponies, and a good contest may be confidently looked forward to. The Bankers Plate has disappeared altogether from the programme, but the German Cup under its altered conditions, presents quite, a formidable appearance with its two dozen entries, and should certainly prove one of the most exciting events during the meeting. The Parsee Cup almost invariably attracts a large complement of griffins, and 20, as against 21 in 1881, must be considered eminently satisfactory. The Professional Cup shows a great falling off, there being only 17 entries to set off against 21; but notwithstanding this numerical disparity, the class of ponies likely to face the starter on this occasion are far above the average, so that an interesting race may be safely relied on. With 21 entries in place of the 28 in Wild Eddy's year, the Town Plate will still be certain to prove one of the "crack" events, and it would be well worth seeing were Wild Eddy Tajmahal, and First Cornet to oppose each other. For the Broker's Cup, confined to subscription griffins, the entry is exactly the same as for the German Cup, with the addition of Glengarry, and as there are penalties for previous winners, it will be rather a difficult task to pick out the Hongkong Races, which commence on Thursday, most likely recipient of this valuable trophy, for the actual training proceedings were unusually I found him with his head lying toward the gutter some considerable time to come. A new race, interesting. A great number of the ponies in on the port side, bleeding profusely from a bullet the Flyaway stakes, for all ponies, previous winners at the meeting 7lbs, extra, should attract a large field out of to entrants, as the distancethree quarters of a mile--is a favorite one with owners, and a fair number of the ponies have big reputations for sprinting abilities.

THE RACE LOTTERTES.

ness transacted last night may be taken as some indication of public opinion as to the prospects of the ponies for the various races. A start was made with the Wong-nei-cheong stakes, for which race the winner of the two previous years, strathpoffer, was made a warm fayorite, shainrock, sunlight, and Gang Forward being next in demand For the Ashley Cup East Wind was the most marketable goods, his stable companion running him close for favouritism, a long gap dividing these two from strathavon, Redstart, and sunlight. In the Derby, the favorite was naturally found in Hohemidh, whose fast year's reputation and the prestige of Mr. Mutchings' brilliant horsemanship will be certain to make the little bay a popular fancy at all the lotteries. Next to Bohemian, came the second strong of the stable, Bavarian, and then sportsman; Hualachan, Airlie, Dunrobin, and Thistle in the order named. The Exchange Plate promises to become as generally popular with promofers of lotteries as the old German Cup used to be, and very properly so, as it is a valuable and important race, ponies of the meeting in antagonism. From proceedings last night it would appear as if last year's German Cup second, Tajmahal, winner in 1880, will be made as great a favorite as Isegrim was for the same event three years three prizes of 70, 20, and 10 per cent, respectively, of the total amount. The total amount of the Exchange Plate was $422.50, which less commission means roughly $392. Seventy per cent. of $392 is $274.40, and to win this prize one enterprising gentleman paid for Tajmahal the large sum of $202, that is, laid nearly three to one on this pony against the field. And yet people say that there is no enterprise in Hongkong, and that money is tight.' First Cornet was made a respecable second favorite, although a long way behind Mr. Paul's champion, with Wild Eddy a fair third. The German Cup for ! subscription griffins proved the most interesting most valuable. The following prices were bid for the leading favorites :-- White Cloud 65, Lightning 36, Lochiel 30, sub-Rosa 26, Shell 26, Grey Mist 214, Kwei Quat 15, White Stockings 11, and Rataplan 101. Purchasers had of course to pay double these amounts. In the Town Plate Wild Race, winner of last year's Derby was most fancied, First Cornet, Wild Eddy, and strathavon following in the order named. Particulars of the lotteries are appended ;form. Nothing else deserving special mention came under our observation, if we except a long

Grey Mist, scotch Mist and Craftsman were sent a long gallop in company, and did well, although at a very slow pace. The pace was increased going up to the Black Rock, Pedrillo still slightly leading with Wild Race next, and Mr. Gordon's trio close together about two lengths away. In making the descent towards the village, Sub Rosa, who had started at the six furlongs post dashed alongside, and joined his stable companion, the six ponies entering the straight run in close togegether. An interesting struggle ensued the home, Wild Race eventually getting past the post first, with Strathisla second, event of the series, and at the same time the Mr. Henry's pair next close up, and Hualachan and Airlie about a length off. This impromptu "pow" strongly resembled an actual race, and excited some interest amongst the spectators ! as the six ponies came racing along the straight. second Cornet cantered six furlongs, Second Vio-In going at a smart pace double that distance. I asked for particulars and he said that in accordance with orders issued by me he had instructed the cooks to get breakfast ready for the carpenters at 6.30 a.m. so as to en-able the latter to continue building bunks for passengers, promptly at 7 o'clock. He had asked the chief cook why these, orders had not been obeyed, and why breakfast was not read for the men at the time ordered. The cook responded in a vile and abusive manner, using epithets such as-son of a -, etc., then the officer struck him and demanded proper respect. The cook struck back with a saucepan or pot which he had in his hand, and was instantly joined in his attack on the mate by the other cooks, and a scuffle ensued, the officer being struck at from all quarters by billets of wood and broomhandles in the hands of the Chinese servants. The mate to protect himself draw his revolver and endeavored to secure the chief ! cook to bring him aft to me; another scuffle then ensued, during which, the revolver was accidently discharged, the bullet therefrom striking one of the cooks (who was peaceably engaged in attending to work at the time, and who had no connection with the trouble), in the top of the head, his position been a stooping one at the time. This matter as related, being reported to me by Mr. Davis, I immediately and without the attendance of enthusiastic sportsmen under dressing myself ran on deck, entirely unarmed and made my way through the excited crowd of expense.

Then I went on shore, but the day being a holiday all the stores were closed, and as Lwas a stranger I went directly to the Hawaiian Hotel for the purpose of using the telephone there to communicate with the proper authorities. # CHINESE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Two Bills referring to Chinese immigration have been presented to the United States Senate. The following is the official synopsis of these

By Mr. Grover, of Oregon-To restrict the immigration of Chinese to the Union States. The Bill is mainly a copy of the vetoed Fifteen Passenger Bill of 1879, which provided that no more than fifteen Chinese subjects should be admitted to the United States on any one vessel. A section is added confining it to the stipulations of the recent treaty exempting from any prohibitory legislation Chinese teachers, students, merchants and travellers, and also permitting the free return to this country of any Chinese labourers now resident in the United States.

By Mr. Miller, of California.-To enforce treaty stipulations relating to the Chinese. suspends and prohibts, until otherwise provided by law, the introduction, coming into or residence within the United States of any Chinese except the following:-students, merchants, traders, Government officers, with their body and household servants, and Chinese labourers who were resident in the United states on July 19th, 1881 It provides that the admitted classes shall be required to furnish certificates from the Chinese Government and Consular officers, at the ports of departure showing that they are exempt from the foregoing provisions.

Banks, a substantial business having been transacted for cash at 117, 1173, and 118 per cent. premium. A large number of shares have changed hands at these rates, the stock leaving off quite steady at the higher quotation. There is a slight demand for China Traders' scrip at 1,600 which has not been met. A small business has also been effected in the stock of the Hongkong Fire Insurance Company at the current rate—950 per share—without, however, in any way affecting its market status. China Fires are very quiet at 290 per share. No further transfers in Docks have come under our notice, but this popular medium for investment is very firm, with plenty buyers at 45 per cent premium, and an upward tendency is plainly indicated. There are still sellers of Steamboats at 24 per share premium, ex div., but offers to sell have not been closed with. The proceedings at the meeting of the Hotel shareholders yesterday afternoon would appear to have given an impetus to the Company's affairs, and for the first time for many weeks we have to report business in this scrip. At 90 per share a fair amount of shares have changed hands, and buyers outnumber the sellers at that rate. Sugars have also been negotiated, although, as we anticipated, at a reduced rate. Good business has been booked at 162½, and at that price the stock is in brisk demand, with far more buyers than sellers. At three per cent. premium a limited business has been done in the bonds of the Chinese Imperial Loan of 1881. Other quotations remain unaltered.
